The Counseling Center (CC) of Langston University offers a wide range of personal and psychological services. We are located in 110 University Women. The intake and counseling sessions are at no charge to the student. Counseling professionals at the Student Counseling Center include licensed/license eligible psychologists and counselors.

The Student Counseling Center follows ethical standards and professional guidelines set forth by the American Psychological Association. Information disclosed in counseling sessions, including the fact that counseling has been initiated is confidential and will not be revealed to anyone outside this agency without the client’s prior written consent unless the client is less than 18 years of age or with certain exceptions (see below). Individuals seeking services should be aware that identifying information and session notes/reports are stored in a secured filing system. Professional staff, and designated other employees of the Counseling Center will have access to scheduling and data systems to schedule appointments, store demographic and personal information, case notes, and compile accountability reports. The direct supervisor of the counseling center will have access to scheduling information.

Individuals under age 18 who request services should understand that parents/legal guardians have the right to request information from the counselor. Ethical guidelines and applicable laws permit this disclosure of information to parents/legal guardians of minors.

I. RIGHTS

Eligibility: Currently enrolled LU-Langston students are eligible for services. Please note that the Counseling Center does not provide services that require court testimony/reports or involve legal proceedings.

Service: The initial appointment with an intake counselor is for screening/assessment. During this appointment, counseling options will be discussed and decided upon between the student and the counselor. While receiving services at the Counseling Center, you may be referred for medical or other consultation and/or asked to authorize communication between staff and other health-care providers. You may also be referred to adjunctive treatments (e.g., group counseling, and/or substance abuse evaluation) offered by the Counseling Center. A counselor will provide additional information about services and treatment options.

At busy times during the semester, the CC may have a waiting list for services. Counselors will make every effort to estimate the amount of time before counselor assignment and a first appointment can be scheduled. Our waiting list is generally managed on a first come, first served basis. If, however, you are placed on our waiting list and experience a crisis before you are assigned to a counselor, please contact CC so that crisis intervention services can be arranged.

If it is determined that your treatment needs require resources or competencies beyond that which we can provide, we will assist with an appropriate referral.

Confidentiality: All interactions with the Counseling Center, including scheduling of, or attendance of appointments, content of your sessions, progress in counseling, and your records, are confidential within the counseling center.

Confidentiality will assist with an appropriate referral.

No record of counseling is contained in any academic, educational or job placement file. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) does not apply to Counseling Center records. Counseling Center staff will send a report, or talk with persons you designate, with your written consent.

The counseling staff works as a team. Your counselor may consult with other counseling staff to provide you with the best possible care. Staff consultations are for professional and training purposes. Information will not be disclosed outside of CC without your written consent with the exception of the following:

1) Imminent Harm to Self: If a staff member has reason to believe that you are in danger of physically harming yourself; a counselor is legally and ethically required to report this information to the proper authorities or another person as needed to ensure your safety.

2) Imminent Harm to Others: If a staff member has reason to believe that you are seriously threatening harm against another person and if s/he believes that you are a threat to the safety of another person, s/he is legally and ethically required to take some action (such as contacting the police, notifying the other person, seeking involuntary hospitalization or some combination of these actions) to ensure that the other person is protected.

Abuse of Vulnerable Individuals: If a staff member has reason to believe that a child, an elderly person, or other vulnerable individual is being physically or sexually abused or neglected, s/he is legally obligated to report this situation to the appropriate state agency.

3) Court Order: A court order, issued by a judge, may require the Counseling Center staff to release information contained in records and/or require a counselor to testify in a court proceeding.

________________________ (initials)
Please Note: The exceptions to confidentiality are extremely rare. However, if they should occur it is the Center’s policy that, whenever possible, we will discuss with you any action that is being considered. Legally we are not obligated to seek your permission, especially if such a discussion would prevent us from securing your safety or the safety of others. If disclosure of confidential information does become necessary, we will release only the information necessary to protect you or another person, or only that which is required by law.

II. RESPONSIBILITIES

Participation:
Your active participation in the counseling process is essential for progress to be made. Counseling sessions typically last 50 minutes. Your promptness for these sessions will allow you to take full advantage of your appointments. Once you have been assigned to a counselor, if you are unable to attend your session, please cancel your appointment by calling the CC 24 hours in advance.

Feedback:
The Counseling Center staff is interested in any positive or negative feedback you may have regarding the services you receive. You will have an opportunity to provide feedback at the end of your counseling on our evaluation form. You are, of course, welcome to provide us with feedback at any time during the counseling process. If, for any reason, you are not satisfied with the counseling process, we encourage you to discuss this first with your counselor. You may also request an appointment with the Coordinator of Counseling to discuss possible reassignment or other counseling options or concerns.

III. GENERAL INFORMATION

Counseling Records:
You will be asked to provide us with information about yourself prior to your first meeting with a counselor. This information will help us better understand your situation and plan service. Counseling files are NOT part of academic records, and no one has access to them except the staff of The Counseling Center. Complete records are maintained for seven years.

Information from your counseling records that does not identify you may be used for research and program evaluation purposes. This information will remain confidential and only be used in aggregate format in research.

Missed Appointments:
If you miss two scheduled appointments without rescheduling, we will assume you are no longer interested in our services. You may, of course, request services again at any time.

Emergency Services:
A Crisis Hotline is available to students after hours beginning August 1st, 2014. Simply dial our main number at 405-466-3400. In an immediate emergency, contact the Langston University Police at 405-466-3366 or 911

E-mail Policy:
Given that E-mail is never fully confidential, it is our policy to never use E-mail for communication of any kind with Counseling Center clients.

Audio/Videotaping:
No videotaping of sessions is presently conducted. Audiotaping of sessions is also not conducted without your permission.

If you have any questions about these guidelines please feel free to discuss them with your counselor.

I HAVE READ AND UNDERSTAND THE GUIDELINES FOR SERVICES ON BOTH PAGES OF THIS DOCUMENT, AND CONSENT VOLUNTARILY FOR SERVICES DESCRIBED IN THESE GUIDELINES.
