

Langston University Department of Rehabilitation and Disability Studies (DRDS)

Master of Science Degree in Rehabilitation Counseling Program (RCP)

Dr. Corey L. Moore, Rh.D., CRC, Director and Chair

Program Accreditation and Program Outcomes Evaluation Summary

In accordance with CACREP Evaluation transparency standards, the Langston University Rehabilitation Counseling Program (RCP) provides information routinely to the public on its performance including, but not limited to, student enrollment, graduates, accreditation status, and student achievement consistent with policies of the institution, to foster continuing public awareness and confidence about academic quality. Select program outcomes are noted below for public access.

Program Accreditation Status:

The RCP is accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counselors and Related Educational Program (CACREP). The RCP is administered through the Department of Rehabilitation and Disability Studies (DRDS), which also houses an Undergraduate Rehabilitation Services Program (RSP).

Three Year Enrollment, Retention, Comprehensive Examination Passage and Graduation Rates

	Academic Year 2019-2020	Academic Year 2020-2021	Academic Year 2021-2022
Student Enrollment	77	67	54
Retention Rate
Passing Rate on Comprehensive Examination	94.1%	86.3%	96.4%
Number of Graduates	43	30	12

Average Time/Matriculation Period:

24 months if student enrolled in 12 credit-hours in semesters 1, 2, 4, & 5 and 9 credit-hours in semester 3, totaling 60 credit-hours.

Special Note: Students may matriculate through RCP courses on their own pace. RCP courses are normally scheduled only once an academic year.

Estimated Program Cost:

Resident ($20,780) Nonresident ($28,708) <https://www.langston.edu/future-students/first-steps/financial-aid/cost-attendance>

Special Note: Estimated program cost does not include textbook and additional peripheral course materials.

Graduate Research Fellowships Available:

Langston University Rehabilitation Research and Training Center (RRTC) may have limited graduate research fellowship that covers tuition and fees.

RCP Graduate Employment Rate:

Employment rate of RCP graduates within the first six (6) months following graduation is 96%.

RCP Graduates' Employment Settings:

Rehabilitation counselors practice in both the public and private sectors. Examples of settings in which RCP graduates are currently employed include, but not limited to:

- State-Federal Rehabilitation Programs
- Mental Health Centers
- Private, Non-Profit, Community-based Organizations
- Public School Systems
- Private Rehabilitation Companies
- Colleges and Universities
- Correctional Facilities
- Medical Centers/Hospitals
- Private Practice
- Job Training Centers
- Substance Abuse Facilities

In addition to serving people with physical disabilities, RCP graduates work with a variety of other populations including individuals with developmental, cognitive, emotional, and addiction disabilities, as well as persons preparing for future careers.

Eligibility for National Certification and Licensure by RCP Program Graduates:

RCP courses are designed to develop mastery of knowledge and skill areas identified by as requisite competencies for rehabilitation counselors. The RCP strives to mold scholars who apply research/literature, statistical and research methods to guide practice. Students who successfully complete the program coursework are eligible to apply for national certification as a Certified Rehabilitation Counselor (CRC) through the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC) and State of Oklahoma LPC Licensure through the Oklahoma State Department of Health (OSDH).

Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC) link:

<https://crccertification.com/>

Oklahoma State Department of Health (OSDH) link:

https://www.ok.gov/behavioralhealth/ACADEMIC_REQUIREMENTS_-_LPC.html